Our Extra.

The Herald and News, in order to get out a special edition containing a tabulated statement of Tuesday's primary election, sent special messengers to six of the precincts to make sure of the full returns. It was not necessary to send messengers to all of these precincts, but if we had not sent, especially to Walton, the probabilities are that the vote there would not have been received Tuesday night. As it was, we were enabled to secure complete returns from all the precincts before the vote at Newberry was counted, which was not completed until after 3 a. m. Wednesday.

Our tabulated statement was completed and on the press at 4:30 a. m. Wednesday, and by 7 o'clock we had them distributed in Prosperity and numbers of persons took them in all directions.

An edition of 2,000 copies has been nearly exhausted. The extra was in great demand all day yesterday.

It has cost us considerable labor and some money to accomplish this work, but we feel fully repaid by the way in which our effort was appreciated.

Mt. Tabor High School.

The closing exercises of the Mt. Tabor High School were held on last Friday. This school was organized about three years ago and has demonstrated the wisdom of its founders in the large patronage it has received and the success that has attended it.

Prof. E. O. Counts has been its principal for three years. Mr. Counts is a graduate of Newberry College, and has been a very successful teacher. It is a matter of regret that he has decided to give up teaching.

It was our pleasure to attend the closing exercises in connection with this school.

The address was delivered by Rev. G. W. Holland, D. D., of Newberry College. The speeches and essays by the pupils were all good. There was a large crowd present and it always does us good to visit this section of the county and partake of the hospitality of these good people.

One of the most pleasing episodes in connection with the exercises was left for the close. It was the presentation to Prof. E. O. Counts, by Rev. J. C. Sligh, in behalf of the pupils of a beautiful gold-headed cane.

It is always a pleasure to us to know that a teacher's work is appreciated by those for whose good he labors and that too, while he yet lives.

The presentation was made in a beautiful speech by Rev. J. A. Sligh. Prof. Counts responded in a very happy manner.

This school will be taught another year by Mr. Ernest S. Dreher, a recent graduate of Roanoke College. Miss Mamie Crooks has been the assistant for the past year and will continue in the same position for the next year.

This school has enrolled the past year 132 pupils. It is schools of this kind that we most need in our rural districts. They are doing a good and great educational work for the youth of our land.

We hope to see this school continue to prosper under the new management. We give herewith a copy of the programme:

THE DEBATING SOCIETY.

Easy—Uncle Sam's Farm. Miss Mary Monts.
 Number of students participating, 21.

NOTES FROM EXCELSIOR.
 At this writing the weather remains dry and dusty.

Messrs. H. M. Singley and company have purchased a new cotton gin.

Some cool weather has been experienced during the past week.

Our farmers are now busily engaged gathering out the fleecy staple.

The 28th has past and gone, and some of the candidates are now happy, while some are of course happier.

Mr. Jacob B. Debenbaugh, who lives in the St. Paul's community, sold a bale of cotton on last Saturday morning. Mr. Debenbaugh is an early bird in the line of farming.

Mr. John Schumpert and family, of the Mt. Pilgrim section, paid his regular seven years visit to his sister on Saturday. Mr. Schumpert resides in five miles of his sister and visits her once in every seven years.

The Excelsior School closed Friday evening, as we announced last week. The attendance was good and the exercises very interesting. The exercises were closed with prayer by Rev. C. A. Marks, of Prosperity.

On last Thursday we again had the pleasure of attending another one of these pleasant and enjoyable occasions, the exhibition and picnic of Mr. J. S. Wheeler's school, at the Mt. Pilgrim Academy. We arrived at the above named place at 9 o'clock and found a goodly number already gathered, and the number kept increasing until we were reminded of the piece of poetry that reads thus:

"It seemed that all of Adam's race Were gathered together in one place."

At 10 o'clock the exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. C. A. Marks, after which followed speeches and dialogues of various kinds, the scholars being introduced by the teacher. After the exercises were through the long and prepared table was filled to almost overflowing with the very best of eatables, being enough for all, and it is some to carry home.

After dinner the young folks enjoyed themselves in social conversations, of course generally in two numbers, while the older folks enjoyed themselves in looking on and talking over their young days. The music furnished for the occasion, by Miss Nora Miller on the organ and Messrs. J. M. Matthews and J. A. Kinard on the violin, added very much to the enjoyment of the day. Thus passed away another pleasant and enjoyable occasion—an occasion of which both old and young always enjoy themselves.

SIGMA.

PROSPERITY LETTER.

Messrs. D. C. Dickert and Frank L. Schumpert, who have been engaged on the railroad between Chattanooga, Tenn., and Meridian, Miss., have returned home until the railway reeve in Jacksonville shall have subsided.

Mrs. Lizzie Lathan, of Lowryville, is visiting her parents, Maj. and Mrs. P. E. Wise. Glad to see her again.

Miss Fannie Clark, of Batesburg, is visiting Miss Fannie McNary.

At the closing exercises of Prof. E. O. Counts' school at Mt. Tabor, he was presented with a beautiful gold-headed cane by his pupils.

Prof. E. O. Counts has had aside his literary books and now has charge of the books in the office of Wise Bros.

"Rome was not built in a day" neither was the surface work around and above the mineral well completed in one day, or even a week.

On last Sunday night a white woman—giving her name as Mary Price—a tramp, united herself with the colored Baptist church here. That night she lodged with some colored people near the church. We learn that she was run from Newberry. We have seldom known of such a case of total depravity and degradation.

We are still exceedingly dry, and the cotton is opening rapidly. Picking has commenced. Last corn is raised. Gardens a perfect failure.

Well the first primary is over and the pot is cooling down, but she has some terribly scorched places in her. Some parties feel very badly this morning and are dejected, while others are jubilant and are happy and serene. Some candidates meet their defeat manly—some otherwise. All could not be elected; there were more men than at offices, except for Auditor and Probate Judge. House and Fellows had a jolly time, and nobody is mad because they are elected, and nobody is beat, and they are joyous and happy. These things will be so. Ballot boxes are about as uncertain as a pett jury, and will continue to be so, but the world goes on all the same. These things will soon be forgotten and absorbed by greater and more important events. There is one office—a great office to which we may all be elected if we vote aright down here, and this we should do, and that is a great and high office—a king and a priest unto God. So mote it be.

Is There to be a Contest?
 It was reported yesterday that Mr. Sligh would contest the election of Tuesday. The Herald and News had a talk with Mr. Sligh yesterday, and he had not decided what would be done. Many of his friends think there was illegal voting and that he was defeated by such voting, and they are demanding him to make an investigation. This he may do, and in order to do so he may give notice of protest or contest, and that he may be enabled to make the investigation. That he said would give him an opportunity to investigate and determine whether there is any foundation for this apprehension of his friends. If he is satisfied he has been fairly won will bow more gracefully than he to the will of the majority.

Flynn is again with us and prices have gone down with a rush; which goes to show that he means business this time.

Box Papers, at J. W. Chapman's, "Connet Style," "Bullion," "Charred Edge," etc., etc.

If you want a first-class Sewing Machine, call on D. B. Wheeler on Fifth street, next door to Dr. Pope's office, if

Worth Knowing.
 That Alcock's Porous Plasters are the highest result of medical science and skill, and in incalculable numbers have never been equaled.

That they are the original and genuine porous plasters upon whose reputation millions trade.
